This chassis is in excellent condition and the privately-built 12' Expedition body has been completely refurbished with all new flooring, walls, ceiling, bathroom and more. Also, the package includes air conditioning and a new Honda 3000iS generator with electric start.

The price is $179,000 USD, which makes this a great value. The U500 chassis, alone, is valued at $90,000.

Remember, this year of Unimog is capable of travel anywhere in the world due to its ability to burn high sulfur fuels. This 154" wheelbase and 12 foot body will be ideal for the single traveler or couple that requires maximum maneuverability and a light footprint.
